

A Live Educational Experience presented by

Who?

"Live It is a company on the cutting edge of the digital classroom. It is an online portal that connects students grades K-12 to experts in the field in real-time. Think Netflix, but LIVE and interactive." For more info, check out their website: <https://www.liveit.earth/>

What?

The first of the fall series is live-streamed whale watching expedition about Orcas. EBUS students can ask questions and have Orca experts answer them while on the boat!

ORCA LIVE will be the Big Bang to start off the new school year in sciences and interactive studies, and what better way to open conversations (and minds!) than to shine the spotlight on the most relevant character in our waters?

Killer whales are the ultimate predators of the world's oceans, above even great white sharks. Here in the Pacific Northwest, they serve as ambassadors of one of the richest marine ecosystems on our planet.

As the plight of BC's orca population is seemingly more and more at risk, students across the province will now have the incredible opportunity to get their facts first-hand from top experts who study these magnificent creatures every day, and to ask the burning questions that traditional news outlets just can't quite unravel.

When?

Tuesday Sept 25th, at 10 am.

How?

Click on the link to join the live show: <https://global.gotomeeting.com/join/891932981>

You can join the live show from your computer, tablet or phone!

Students can prepare questions for the orca experts to answer during the event. Have them submit questions using the google document:

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSejyOY1V_L0j-Of2HX37AWKKoIEOsdgh4LI52vMZ_FYNs86Ng/viewform?c=0&w=1

On SEPT 25th:

1. On the day of the live show, set up your computer, projector, speakers, and logging into the show! Exciting!
2. During the live show, ask your questions via Twitter:
 - Follow @liveitearth #OrcaLive
 - If you ask questions after the live show, keep tagging @liveitearth #OrcaLive and they will answer your questions.
3. If you don't have Twitter, simply type your questions into the chat box and we will put them into Twitter for you!

Help?

Questions about this presentation can be directed to EBUS teacher Stacy Batchelor:

sbatchelor@sd91.bc.ca